

One Flagler, West Palm Beach

📍 Florida, USA

≡ Infinite HPL

The project.

One Flagler rises on the waterfront in downtown West Palm Beach as a premier office destination. The development sets new standards for corporate environments, combining striking architecture with first-class amenities and panoramic views. The building team wanted restrooms that lived up to this vision. Facilities that matched One Flagler's luxury positioning while offering tenants a seamless blend of durability, comfort and modern design. We worked closely with the team to deliver a restroom solution that would meet these ambitions and stand the test of time.

The challenge.

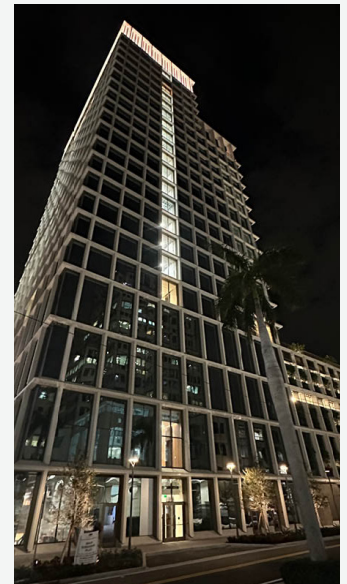

In such a prestigious setting, the restrooms had to achieve much more than basic functionality. The brief called for a solution that would:

- Complement the building's striking, modern interiors.
- Withstand high levels of daily use from a diverse professional community.
- Offer privacy, hygiene and user comfort.
- Simplify upkeep for building management without compromising style.

The solution.

To meet One Flagler's requirements, we specified our premium Infinite stalls, known for their strength, privacy, and aesthetic appeal. Infinite's flush-fronted panels create a seamless, modern finish that aligns perfectly with the building's architectural style.

The client selected Golden Oak, a rich, natural woodgrain that enhances the sophistication of the space while adding warmth and ambience. With 34 laminate finishes to choose from, Infinite gives architects and designers the freedom to tailor stalls to any project vision, whether that means bold contrast, natural depth or a timeless neutral palette.

We engineered Infinite to perform in demanding environments. High Pressure Laminate (HPL) resists scratches, impact and heat, ensuring long-lasting durability. Our stainless steel hardware, including lever-operated indicator bolts with an emergency release mechanism, combines safety, security and ease of use with a premium feel.

Feedback from tenants and visitors has been overwhelmingly positive. By delivering privacy, resilience and refined aesthetics, our Infinite stalls have elevated One Flagler's restrooms to match the building's status as a world-class workplace.
